Art Unit: 3735

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-9, drawn to a collection container assembly, classified in class 600, subclass 576.
 - II. Claims 10-18, drawn to a method of providing a collection container assembly with an arcuate shaped end, classified in class 156, subclass 380.1.
2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions of Group II and Group I are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case, the finished product may be materially produced by other methods besides "inserting one of said ends into a forming tool having an arcuate shaped recess".
3. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.
4. During a telephone conversation with Ms. Nanette Thomas on November 3, 1998 a provisional election was made without traverse to prosecute the invention of Group I, claims 1-9. Affirmation of this election must be made by applicant in replying to this Office action. Claims

Art Unit: 3735

10-18 have been withdrawn from further consideration by the examiner, 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a non-elected invention.

Drawings

5. Figures 1 and 2 should be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Griffin '4,335,730 in view of Burns '5,458,854.

Griffin discloses a collector assembly and specimen tube comprising a first open end 20 and a second closed end 18, wherein the closed end is reinforced by a reservoir tip of reduced diameter so that the tube is adapted for the precipitation of a measured quantity materials. Accordingly, the closed end of Griffin reads on applicant's "second end being configured into at least a partially arcuate shape." However, Griffin does not disclose the partition member.

Art Unit: 3735

Burns teaches a collection assembly useful for collecting small quantities of blood, wherein the closed bottom end 38 represents a partition member, see figure 1. In regards to claim 2, see figure 1; element 47. In regards to claim 4, the closed bottom end 38 clearly is integral with the housing sidewall 22. With respect to claim 7 and 8, see column 5, lines 43-49. With respect to claim 9, it is observed that applicant's specification does not disclose that the dimensions solves any particular problem or produces any unexpected result and therefore such is merely a matter of engineering design choice, and thus does not serve to patentably distinguish over the prior art.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have provided the invention of Griffin with the partition member as taught by Burns in order to reduce the volume in the housing.

Conclusion

8. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

U.S. Patent No. 4,361,155, 5,533,518, 5,830,154.
